SLUMP IN RUSS IMPERIAL FORCES

Causes Semi-Panic On The Bourse—Jap Army Now Near Mukden Clearing The Battlefield.

St. Petersburg, March 28.—Gen. Linevitch has lost the Japanese army. The news that Russian scouts in a detour of thirty-five miles from the Russian position have been unable to discover any indications of the whereabouts of Oyama's forces, gives an ominous aspect to the situation.

It is remembered that twice last year Kourapatkin lost touch with the Japanese army. He sent Cossacks in every direction—some going eighty miles away from the Russian lines without seeing a sign of the enemy. In both cases Kourapatkin discovered later that the Japanese troops had gained positions on his flanks that compelled him to abandon his positions without a battle.

The impression prevalent in some military circles is that the Japanese will now turn their attention to Vladivostok. The reported withdrawal of the Japanese from the immediate front of the Russian army for a distance of thirty-five miles south confirms this impression. It is realized, of course, that this may be merely a blind to cover flanking operations; but it is not improbable that the Japanese, having cleared southern Manchuria of Russian troops and secured a position whence expulsion would be a long and difficult process, may be satisfied to hold the Tie pass line without further extension of communication.

Preparing for Summer Campaign. In the meantime the general staff is busy with plans for the summer campaign. There is no longer any question of the original project of sending out 400,000 men. All such ambitious plans have been definitely abandoned.

SMALL COLLEGES GET CASH FROM CARNEGIE

Business Being Slack in Library Line
Philanthropist Concludes to Extend Gifts to New Field.

New York, March 28.—"I have been looking largely into small colleges of late and I have entered into the college business as I not long ago entered into the library business," said Andrew Carnegie at the annual dinner of the alumni of Stevens institute at the Hotel Astor. "I did a rip-roaring business at the library stand," he continued, "but I could look ahead and see the demand for libraries slacken. My secretary says the demand is down to one library a day."

"I think a young man who goes to a small college receives a better education than at a large one. Sport is too generally taking the place of valuable knowledge at the big colleges. Since I have gone into the new business there has been a great boom. Within the past few days I have received more than 100 applications for the material I am sending to small colleges. Business, gentlemen, is promising."

Dr. Alexander C. Humphreys, president of Stevens, announced that Mr. Carnegie, in addition to the $200,000, which he has given already to the institute, would give $50,000 more, to which he himself would add $50,000 when the alumni raised another $100,000.

Andrew Carnegie has notified Dr. William H. Crawford, president of Allegheny college at Meadville, Pa., that he will subscribe $25,000 for the benefit of the college if friends of the institution will raise a like amount.

abandoned. It is only proposed to conduct Fabian operations in the hope of exhausting the enemy. Gen. Linevitch nominally has six European and five Siberian and one cavalry corps, which, with reliefs and reinforcements now arriving, gives him 350,000 men.

The calling out of last year's reserves, ostensibly for their annual training, has really been ordered with a view of manning the depot battalions which are providing drafts for Gen. Linevitch's reduced regiments.

The ministry of war further proposes to send 50,000 men, selected from the various corps, to stiffen the army in the field. These makeshift measures are all that is possible in view of the disturbed conditions of the country, which render mobilization highly imprudent.

Change in War Office. There has been a recrudescence of reports of a change in the head of the war office. It was stated by a usually well informed source that Lieut. Gen. Sakharoff will leave shortly and be succeeded by Gen. Ridiger, now chief of the chancellery of the war office. It is also reported that Gen. Polivanoff will be appointed chief of the general staff. Both Polivanoff and Ridiger are of the younger school of generals, but have high reputations as theoreticians and administrators. Gen. Ridiger is the author of a number of text books on tactics.

BARNEY EATON IN HIS SEAT

Cudahy Senator Takes Part In The Work Of The State Senate This Morning.

STATE IS TO PAY THE TRIP'S COST

Legislature Will Visit The Minnesota State Capitol To Inspect The Building Of The Gopher State.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., March 28.—The senate passed by a vote of 21 to 9 the McGillivray good roads bill, providing for the submission of a constitutional amendment to allow the state to appropriate money for good roads when local appropriations are also made. Senators Burns, Kreutzer, Merton, North, Randolph, Roehr, Whitehead, Wolff, and Wright opposed it. Senator Barney A. Eaton, indicted bribe-taker, was in his seat and answered to the opening roll-call, but did not vote and took no other part in the proceedings. No objection was raised to his presence. The Stoddard resolution that the legislature go to St. Paul to inspect the new Minnesota capitol was amended so as to open the way for the state to pay the expenses and passed. The vote was 10 to 9. The Rummel resolution for a constitutional amendment to provide for means for the ousting of state officers by petition was killed. The senate passed or concurred twenty-four bills, including the following: Local fire insurance agents to court-essign policies; providing punishment for abandonment; appropriating $20,000 for stationary for the state; extending the term of commission of labor statistics from two to four years. The assembly passed the H. Johnson bill to tax vessels as personal property; also the Bell bill to empower common councils to order electric wires placed underground. Committee on manufactures and labor introduced a new bill appropriating $25,000 for a Wisconsin exhibit at the Portland exhibition. Senator Whitehead is not preparing a substitute railroad rate commission bill.

Would Pay Visit. The proposition for the Wisconsin legislature to go to St. Paul to inspect the new Minnesota state capitol is meeting with such favor that the twin cities will probably have Senator Barney A. Eaton of Milwaukee, who was indicted three times for accepting bribes in connection with the barbers' license law and who was tried last week on one charge and convicted, took his seat last night. He said he had been vindicated and could no longer remain away from the performance of his official duties, and must henceforth represent his constituents. His presence was not noticed by his colleagues, there was apparently no cordiality or welcome extended to him and he seemed exceedingly lonesome. No roll was called and his presence was not recorded officially. There is some possibility that impeachment proceedings will be instituted against him.

Ad Valorem Tax. The assembly passed an important bill to protect the state from possible loss in connection with the ad valorem railroad taxation litigation, in which the roads are contesting the validity of the assessment made by the state tax commission under the new law passed by the legislature two years ago. The bill provides that if the courts knock out the ad valorem law, the roads shall then pay the amount that they would pay under the old license fee law.

STEEL TRUST EARNINGS LARGEST EVER MADE

Net Sum of Corporation's Profits for First Quarter of the Year Approximates $27,500,000.

New York, March 28.—In the three months ending March 31 the United States Steel corporation has made net earnings approximating $27,500,000.

This is the largest net sum ever made by the corporation in the first quarter of the year. Its best net earnings for the first quarter of the year heretofore reported was in January, February and March, 1902, when the total was $26,715,456.

Because of the present policy of not reporting net earnings until the finished product has passed from the last intermediary company of the corporation to the outside consumer, the net earnings as finally reported may not equal the actual net.

It is possible that this may make a difference of as much as $500,000 or $700,000 in the net reported, but as this will be covered in the next quarter the result so far as the corporation is concerned is the same.

COOKE ARRESTED OUT IN ARIZONA

Former Alderman Is Arrested in Arizona in One of Dave Rose's Mines.

[SPECIAL BY SCRIPTS-M'RAE.]
Tucson, Ariz., March 28.—Charles Cooke, a former member of the Milwaukee city council, has been arrested here and was taken back yesterday to answer to indictments for alleged bribery. Officer George Schoepferle and H. L. Eaton, attorney for the bondsmen, came here and arrested Cooke. The ex-alderman was working in a mine owned by Mayor Rose of Milwaukee. Ex-Ald. Charles Cooke is now supposed to be on his way from Arizona to Milwaukee in charge of George Schoepferle, former deputy sheriff, detective and policeman. The reason for bringing Cooke back to Milwaukee is the southwest search for health in the southwest is said to be that Thomas Kelly, a bondsman, who signed for $1,500, wants to be relieved. Mr. Kelly is one of the proprietors of a saloon at 210 Third street, Milwaukee. Friends of ex-Ald. Cooke expected never to see him alive when he left for the southwest, but he is said to have been greatly benefited by the change. Cooke is charged with having accepted eight bribes. His total bond is $13,500.

BASE BALL DAYS OF THE FAR PAST

IN EIGHTEEN SEVENTY-SEVEN
THEY PLAYED BASE BALL.

JANESVILLE MUTUALS AGAIN

Professional Ball Teams From All Over Play in the City During This Year.

(By Frank L. Smith.)

The next thing on the program was a trip to Minnesota, of which I think all the participants had a very pleasant memory. Those whom I recollect as accompanying the ten players were John Watson, Ed. Harbeck, C. S. Jackson, business manager, C. A. Potter, Guy Carter and wife, Amos Morse, scorer, Frank C. Cook, Alex. Russell and Mrs. Frank L. Smith. We left here on Sunday night, May 20th, driving to Afton where we took sleepers to Winona, having an engagement to play in that city the next day, but we arrived in the midst of an all-day rain storm and the game was necessarily postponed, so there was nothing to do but sit around the hotel and "fan." The word had not been used in this sense at the time but it is the way afterward writers describe what we were doing and something modern must be occasionally introduced to add spice to this story. Alex. Russell was the life and wit of the party and when he was around there was always something doing. Then it was on to Minneapolis at night and as we were unable to secure sleeping car accommodations were not in the best of condition for a ball game upon our arrival in that city in the morning. St. Paul and Minneapolis had each been to considerable expense collecting their nines whose several contests with varied success, had so favorably impressed the multitude that we were not looked upon as being in their class and as to the manner we were considered in that city will mention a barber shop episode of the morning. While getting shaved the writer overheard a conversation in which the merits of the St. Paul and Minneapolis clubs were being discussed. Finally one party says: "I'll bet you twenty-five the Minneapolis win this afternoon." To which the other responded: "Oh, I wonder if you would bet that they could beat a club from a little pay town down in Wisconsin." You can't imagine how that remark grated on my feelings—and patriotism, pride or whatever you might call it, impelled me to offer him a wager that possibly would not have been made by a cool and collected investor—but he helped delay my expenses. The game was a hard fought contest and was a tie at one end in the ninth inning, our nine showing class after they had made one of a score of 4 to 2. Our nine was the same as in the last game with Milwaukee. Morrissey and Arundel each made two hits, while "Bodell" James, Cantillon, Bliss and Smith made one each. Arundel made three errors, Bliss two and Bodell and Morrissey one each. The St. Paul players and a large number of other people from that city witnessed the game and notwithstanding our victory we looked easy to them, but to make it stronger a follower from Winona circulated the report (by which he profited substantially) that Arundel's arm was lame and Bushong's hands were sore, so that St. Paul's money was very plentiful before the game and the sporting element in our party seemed to take kindly to it. We evidently caught the Red Caps on an off day although aside from their battery they made but four errors, but they were woefully weak in batting, making but one hit off Arundel and Bushong attending to the cases of thirteen behind the bat. Called balls were scored as errors at that time which swelled Arundel's total to four the balance of the nine making but one in the game. Bodell made a three-base hit in the first inning followed by a single by James, earning a run that would have won the game no matter how well the Red Caps had played, but here is the score of the first shut-out by the Mutuals that against ordinarily heavy batteries.

Umpire—C. Frost, St. Paul. During the game several of our party were circulating among the audience making investments for which after we had scored five runs there was no opportunity. Suddenly, one who had been quietly watching the game all by his lonesomeness and was unaware of the doings of the others, cried out: "I'll bet fifty dollars the Mutuals win the game," which provoked loud laughter from those in the immediate vicinity.

The weather during our stay in the Twin cities was simply grand and as we were billed for another game in Minneapolis the next day it was decided to drive over, going by way of Ft. Snelling and Minnehaha Falls, ferrying the river, and returning by the prairie road, there being quite a number of miles of farming land between the two cities in those days. I don't think any member of the party ever forgot that trip and I know of three in our carriage who never will as long as they live. We of course stopped at the Falls quite a while and everyone seemed to be in a jolly mood, Cook doing a few stunts in his own peculiar style. On the return trip, if my memory serves me right, there were several stops made—"but the smoke went up the chimney just the same," for the truth of which respectfully refer the reader to Gen. Jos. B. Doe of Milwaukee. As Bushong and Arundel had been worked quite steadily our change battery, Bliss and Burns, were introduced to the public in this game for the first time. We fully realized the chance we were taking in making this change, as it deprived us of the services of our regular shortstop and first baseman and necessitated Bushong going to first, James to ss, and Arundel to rf, but in these new positions the game proved to be the best on record up to that time, one fielding error being made in the game and that not in the least affecting the score. And this without gloves, mits, masks or paraphernalia of any kind. It proved conclusively that we had one of the best and most resourceful nines ever organized up to that time, as our playing that day would have won any other game during the season, but we were certainly up against it for fair and true as we would, it seemed almost impossible to place a ball out of reach of the Minneapolis fielders. The base hits were just the same, three singles and a double for each club and the only difference in the playing of the two teams was their securing a double and single, in sequence thereby earning a run, which we came very near duplicating. The writer had made a two-base hit and Bushong, over the batter, drove a red hot line over the first baseman's head. He jumped high in the air, met the ball squarely with one hand, caught it before it touched the ground, saved the game for his club, and a job for himself—as he was to have been released that night. I was just passing him as the play was made and under the circumstances depriving me of that much needed run—the fact is recalled very vividly to my mind. It was no use, fate was against us and we gracefully accepted our first complete whitewash. The following is the full score taken from the Pioneer Press:

Left on bases—Mutuals, 3; Minneapolis, 1. Struck out—Mutuals, 5; Minneapolis, 4. Two-base hits—Smith, 1; Dean, 1.

Not to be outdone by their rivals of Minneapolis the Red Caps made preparations (consisting principally of fixing the umpire) to follow in their footsteps and obtain revenge for their disastrous defeat in the first game. The same nines lined up for the second contest in which neither had scored to the sixth inning, when the umpire, Mr. Frost, of St. Paul (certainly a frost for us) who had been gradually growing worse, refused to call either man out in a clean double play made by us. Upon the Red Cap's refusal of our demand for change of umpire we justly withdrew from the game, as it was a foregone hope under those conditions. After getting into the car we were stoned by the hoodlums which was a pleasant diversion from being robbed by an umpire, although Burns did not seem to look at it in that light, and armed with a baseball bat was ready for battle with all of St. Paul. Well, they were after us that night with inducements to remain over for another game on the next day (Saturday). We had an engagement in Winona for that day, but on account of the treatment accorded us the year before we were not so very particular about disappointing them and after we were all stowed away in the train ready to pull out of the depot, the Red Caps offered us a guarantee too tempting to refuse and out we went bag and baggage. The strain of four successive games in which we allowed our opponents but three runs in thirty-four innings was too much and we naturally "broke," they beating us out five to nothing, leaving that series exactly even. After spending a pleasant Sunday in St. Paul we left for Winona where on Monday we defeated the club in that place by a score of two to nothing. Shut-outs were getting to be common affairs. Arriving home Tuesday morning we left again the next day for Chicago where we had a two days' engagement with the Fairbanks, and in the first game on the league grounds at 23rd St. the finest we had ever visited, handicapped by a strong wind and too much Tremont House dinner, we played a miserable game and were defeated four to one. Bushong made no less than six errors behind the bat more than he had made in all previous games up to that date—and the balance of the nine had eight scattered among them. Arundel was all right as he struck out twelve and allowed them but four base hits. The next day we played better but it took us ten innings to beat them four to two. Bushong played without an error, Arundel struck out seven and allowed them but one base hit. We made eleven hits, four of them by James, who did not want to play on account of sickness, and for whom the writer did the base running. We were never able to ascertain what caused his sickness, so were unable to again get him in the same condition. From the Chicago Hotel Reporter while we were in Chicago: "The Mutuals, a very young looking baseball club from Janesville, Wis., are getting away with strawberries and cream and other delicacies at the Tremont. If they play as well as they eat they may reasonably lay claim to the championship." The Inter Ocean spoke very highly of our playing in the second game, according great praise to Bushong and Arundel. It will be seen from the foregoing that we were a pretty fair cheap nine from a Jay town having consecutively defeated every club in the northwest before any of them reciprocated, and our one to nothing game at Minneapolis giving us a reputation throughout the country.

TARPON FISHING IS GREAT SPORT

LETTER FROM FLORIDA TELLS OF THE FISHING.

BIG FELLOWS ARE CAPTURED

How the Fishermen Capture Them with Hook and Gaff—Fight for Hours.

(For the Gazette.)

Cleveland, Fla., March 24, '04. With a temperature of 90, and nights as hot as August the beauties of Southern Florida as a winter resort are fully appreciated. As the warm weather comes on, the water in the bay becomes more brackish and the variety and number of fish increases.

The month of April is the banner month for fishing in this territory, although a number of good catches have been made by the Cleveland party during the past few days. On the afternoon that the Jew fish, weighing 283 pounds was caught, Mr. George Cahoon landed a saw fish measuring 9 and one-half feet, and the next day Mr. Caughran of Sioux Falls caught the finest tarpon of the season at Liverpool, seven miles north of Cleveland on Peace river.

It was Mr. Caughran's first experience with a large fish and when he leaped into the air eight feet at the end of a hundred foot line the gentleman was a good deal surprised to say the least.

Secured Picture. Miss Mabel Greenman with a party of ladies was fishing from a launch near by, and as the fish made several flying leaps during the half hour that was required to land him, she succeeded in getting some snap shots which will be re-produced in the Gazette a little later. No picture can do justice to the sight, however, and the best description of this wonderful fish is but a poor outline.

The tarpon evidently belongs to the trout family. He is much the same shape but the lines are more graceful. The scales, measuring from one and one-half to three inches, are a bright silver color and sparkle in the sunlight like a new silver dollar. When a tarpon takes the bait and feels the first prick of the hook, he goes into the air from five to ten feet and then the fight is on. From that time until he is landed he is on the go, and time and again, when within fifty feet of the boat, he will take a new start and frequently cover several miles of territory before giving up.

A Large One. The tarpon caught by Mr. Caughran measured six feet and seven inches and weighed one hundred and forty-four pounds. He was caught on a hand line and handled more easily than with rod and reel. A taxidermist is mounting the fish and it will ornament Mr. Caughran's dining room at Sioux Falls as evidence of a fish story which might be questioned by that gentleman's friends.

Another Tarpon. The day following this catch, Mr. Robert Cahoon was fishing on the same grounds when his line commenced to spin from the reel and an immense tarpon came out of the water fifty yards away. The anchor was raised and the boat put in shape for action without delay. The fight which lasted an hour and twenty-five minutes was a test of skill and strength, and when the fish was brought along side the boat and gaffed, both men were exhausted. The fish measured eighty-five inches with a girth of forty inches, and weighed one hundred and seventy-one pounds.

Start for North. The following day Mr. Bailey gave the hotel party a picnic on the tarpon grounds at Liverpool, and while everybody fished diligently, and plenty of tarpon were in sight, none were secured. The Janesville party with the exception of Miss Greenman, start for the north today. The season's sport sensed yesterday by landing a couple of shark, the largest one weighing eighty-five pounds.

The Cahoon brothers, the Caughran family, and Miss Greenman will stay two or three weeks longer, and enjoy the fishing. Mr. George Cahoon was here last year until about the twentieth of April. His record on large fish for the season was ten Jew fish, weighing from sixty-eight to three hundred and nineteen pounds, one saw fish weighing five hundred pounds, four tarpon and about one hundred shark. His brother Robert is a very successful tarpon fisher and the gaff he is now using has twelve tarpon notches. The two men have fished in these waters for a number of years, and both are experts.

This little hotel should be crowded with Janesville and Rock county people every winter. The climate is simply perfect and the salt sea air most invigorating. The scenery is fine, boating and fishing good and all for one dollar per day. It is the laziest country yet discovered.

VAUDEVILLE SHOW. DELIGHTED MANY

Well Filled House Last Evening at West Side Theatre—George Hatch Attracts.

Probably no stronger drawing card than George Hatch of this city appearing at the West Side Theatre this week in an illustrated song act and rendering harp solos with vocal accompaniment, will be secured by Manager Birkbeck this season. Added to the fact that Mr. Hatch has an excellent voice and is an artist as a harp player, he is personally known to a large number of Janesville people and his act alone will attract many to the performance of this week.

Last evening he rendered two vocal selections with illustrations by the stereopticon and a harp solo and was liberally and heartily applauded not only before and after each piece, but between the stanzas. The auditorium once look great delight for over two hours in the moving pictures and various vaudeville parts. The Three Graces, a funny kid, a big man and a little woman, were very good. The kid has an appearance, a facial expression, an accent and lines that are amusing. Tot Young, the blackface comedian, who does a few stunts, sings a song and plays the banjo eccentrically, delights his hearers. Spaulding, the comedy tramp juggler and acrobat, draws laughter from his witnesses and places smiles on their faces by the care with which he changes his cuff from one arm to the other after each movement. De Witt, the man of mystery, picks coins from the thin air, draws kerchief after kerchief from an empty hat, and shakes out several bushels of paper flowers from a Bristol board corsetcase. He also demonstrates his hypnotic influence and power. Stewart and Raymond, musicians extraordinary, are also strong artists.

Some Who Are Coming. Secretary McVicar this morning received word from the U. M. C. people, saying that they were making arrangements to send their crack shot, Carl Mohr, for the meet. William Crosby of O'Fallon, Illinois, who is the crack man of the Winchester Arms company, has also signified he will be present, as will W. D. Stumstad of the Dupont company. Yesterday afternoon word was received that a party of Chicago and Northwestern railway officials will be present. Shooters from Tomah, Columbus, Palmyra, Rockford, Grand Rapids, Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Ripon, Milwaukee, Beloit and throughout the country are to come. P. A. Nolar, chief of police of Fond du Lac, has written he will be here without fail. Drummond Mason of Grand Rapids asks about trains and accommodations and announces Grand Rapids will be represented and several parties from Chicago are expected to be here.

The Grounds. Secretary McVicar has made arrangements for tents for the shooters, for the judges, and for the spectators on the grounds, which can be reached by the car-line. There will be lunch and refreshment-stands for the accommodation of those who want to stay all day and the only thing now necessary to make the matches a success is good weather. There will be special prizes for the purse shots, a hundred-dollar gun for the big match and enough interest has already been shown to assure the success of the day.

Mrs. Charles Hamming of Rockton is the guest of friends in this city. Little Gale Ogden is spending the week with his grand-parents north of town.

BIG SHOOT WILL ATTRACT MANY

SHOOT OF THE GUN CLUB TO BE A HUMMER.

SECRETARY McVICAR IS BUSY

Inquiries Coming in From All Over
Asking as to the Proposed Meet.

Janesville is to be the mecca of the target-shooters of the country on Thursday next. This is the day that the Janesville Gun club opens the present year's shooting by a giant meet at which some of the best "grans" in the country are to be present. Secretary "Jack" McVicar says that he has received several hundred inquiries from shots all over the country asking for particulars regarding the matches and that he expects when the shooting begins at nine o'clock on Thursday the largest gathering of crack shots that have ever assembled in Janesville will be present. The grounds committee of the club are busy making all plans to have everything in readiness for the day and tents for the shooters, lunch-stands for refreshments, seats for the score-keepers, and other paraphernalia necessary will all be in place so that the contests can open at sharp nine o'clock, and will continue until dark.

INTERNAL TRAFFIC.

Internal traffic movements of staple products of the United States, as reported to the Department of Commerce and Labor through its Bureau of Statistics, present, in the aggregate, a decrease for January and February, if compared with similar movements for 1904, although in a number of specific instances increases have been noted. Weather conditions during February, especially in the Middle West and Northwest, were extremely unfavorable to a free train movement, the intense cold and heavy snows causing numerous delays and blockades.

The remarkably low corn rates to the Atlantic seaboard and the Gulf, which prevailed during the greater part of February, did not have the effect of stimulating the shipments of this cereal to the extent expected, and heavy losses in grain receipts, as compared with those of January, occurred at the more prominent Atlantic and Gulf ports, although such movements, with the exception of those to Philadelphia and Baltimore, both for February and for the first two months of the current year, were greatly in excess of what they were for corresponding periods in 1904. The prevailing price of corn during the past two months was much smaller than that of any two months of the previous year; but it would be hard to determine whether this fact had or had not a restrictive effect upon the free distribution of this cereal.

Live-stock receipts during the month of February at the markets of Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Louis and St. Joseph totaled 2,707,572 head, in contrast with 2,046,282 head for a similar month in 1904 and 2,498,098 head in 1903. For the two months ending February 28, total live-stock arrivals at these five markets were 5,948,583 head in 1905, 6,074,622 head in 1904, and 5,257,491 head in 1903. Of the present year's total, hogs constituted 2,291,517 head, sheep 1,250,261 head, and cattle 1,406,805 head.

At Chicago live-stock receipts during February totaled 1,316,850 head, being about 350,000 head lighter than a similar movement in 1904, but somewhat in excess of that for 1903. Shipments for the month totaled 392,967 head in 1905, and 393,325 head in 1904. Receipts of live stock at this market for the first two months of the current year amounted to 2,941,044 head, which were somewhat smaller than the number received for a like period in 1904, but exceeded a similar movement for 1903. Shipments for the two months were 801,015 head in 1905, 736,455 head in 1904, and 502,982 head in 1903.

The total inbound movement of livestock at St. Louis during February amounted to 312,086 head in 1905, 345,353 head in 1904, and 253,880 head in 1903. Shipments for the month, which amounted to 60,214 head, were smaller than those for a like month of 1904, but largely in excess of a similar movement in 1903. During the first two months of the present year receipts of live-stock at this city aggregated 705,912 head, in contrast with 719,907 head in 1904, and 539,314 head in 1903. Withdrawals for the same periods were 123,477 head in 1905, 133,269 head in 1904, and 99,938 head in 1903.

Kansas City live-stock receipts for the second month of the present year totaled 440,941 head, and, unlike the movement at either Chicago or St. Louis, was somewhat in excess of similar arrivals for both 1904 and 1903. The gain indicated was largely attributable to a heavier movement of sheep, as hogs and cattle both show a loss if compared with the 1904 receipts. Shipments for the month were 70,113 head, being less than a like movement for 1904, but greater than that for 1903. The total receipts of live stock at this city for the first two months of the present year amounted to 952,711 head, and were in excess of a like movement for either of the two preceding years, while the shipments which total 140,292 head, showed a decrease by like comparisons.

At Omaha, live-stock arrivals during February amounted to 376,437 head, and were much below a similar movement for either 1904 or 1903. Losses in the receipts of hogs were particularly heavy, but cattle, sheep, and horses also arrived in smaller numbers. Shipments for the month, which aggregated 65,551 head, were largely in excess of the movement for a like period in either of the two preceding years. Arrivals of live-stock at this market for the first two months of the current year amounted to 776,658 head, as against 556,772 head in 1904 and 707,912 head in 1903. Shipments for similar periods were 118,706 head in 1905, 90,150 head in 1904, and 65,354 head in 1903.

St. Joseph live-stock receipts for the month of February totaled 201,678 head and showed a slight gain over comparative movements for 1904 and 1903. Shipments for the month, which amounted to 22,271 head, were smaller than the withdrawals for 1904, but largely in excess of those for 1903. For the first two months of the present year the total arrivals of all classes of live-stock at this city amounted to 507,258 head, indicating a marked improvement over a similar movement in either 1904 or 1903. Shipments, which amounted to 47,131 head during the current year, also showed a gain by like comparisons over the two preceding years.

The inbound movement of live-stock at Sioux City, which amounted to 135,805 head during February, showed a distinct gain over like movements for 1904 and 1903. Shipments, on the other hand, indicated a remarkable shrinkage, amounting to only 23,711 head in 1905 as against 73,329 head in 1904 and 64,098 head in 1903. Similar receipts at this market for the two months ending February 28 were 310,681 head in 1905, 261,643 head in 1904, and 250,870 head in 1903. Withdrawals for the same periods amounted to 74,406 head, 144,675 head, and 129,852 head, respectively.

At St. Paul, live-stock arrivals, which were 124,876 head during the month, showed a decrease if compared with similar receipts in 1904 and 1903, but the total inbound movement for the two months, although presenting a decrease if compared with a like period in 1904, showed an increase over the movement of 1903. Shipments for the month were 35,651 head in 1905, 74,549 head in 1904, and 36,795 head in 1903, while for the two-month period they amounted to 112,612 head, 176,573 head, and 88,995 head, respectively. Receipts of wheat at the four spring wheat markets of Minneapolis, Milwaukee, Duluth and Chicago, totaled 113,338,324 bushels for the season from August 1, 1904 to February 28, 1905. Of this total 65,828,640 bushels arrived at Minneapolis, 5,665,740 at Milwaukee, 22,001,368 bushels at Duluth, and 19,842,576 bushels at Chicago. The total receipts at these four markets for a similar period in 1903—amounted to 117,512,498 bushels, and in 1902-3, 126,955,704 bushels. These comparisons indicate a considerable loss in the shipments of the current season, largely due, no doubt, to the short wheat crop of the past year. The market showing the greatest losses in comparison with last season's arrivals, were Chicago, Duluth and Milwaukee; Minneapolis figures alone indicating a slight gain.

At the winter wheat markets of Toledo, St. Louis, Detroit and Kansas City the total receipts of this cereal aggregated 49,333,751 bushels from January 1, 1904, to February 28, 1905. For a similar period in the 1903-4 season, the total arrivals amounted to 62,394,026 bushels, and in 1902-3, 65,515,358 bushels. The decrease for the present season as indicated by these comparisons was caused by a shrinkage in receipts at all of the markets named.

Grain receipts at Chicago during February totaled 12,951,462 bushels, in contrast with 17,295,867 bushels in 1904, and 16,845,067 bushels in 1903. The decrease as shown for the second month of the current year was caused by lighter arrivals of wheat, corn, oats, rye and barley, the greatest shrinkage as compared with the 1904 figures occurring in oat receipts. Total grain shipments for the month, which amounted to 7,512,767 bushels, were over a million bushels smaller than a similar movement for 1904 or 1903. Cereal arrivals at this city for the first two months of the current year amounted to 29,511,680 bushels in 1904 and 38,047,705 bushels in 1903. Shipments for the same periods were 18,894,272 bushels, 18,501,781 bushels, and 19,575,454 bushels, respectively.

At Milwaukee grain was received during the month of February to the amount of 1,879,450 bushels, as compared with 2,399,100 bushels in 1904, and 3,672,700 bushels in 1903. The loss indicated for the present year was due to lighter arrivals in all of the cereals, the decrease in the receipts of oats, wheat and barley being particularly noticeable. Total shipments for the month were 1,182,256 bushels in 1905, 1,411,155 bushels in 1904, and 1,233,371 bushels in 1903. For the first eight weeks of the present year, the total inbound movement of grain at Chicago amounted to 4,352,430 bushels in contrast with 6,436,030 bushels in 1904, and 6,094,260 bushels in 1903. Withdrawals for the same periods were 3,037,859 bushels, 3,106,830 bushels, and 2,319,005 bushels, respectively.

At St. Louis, February grain receipts totaled 3,907,847 bushels, being only about half the size of what they were for a corresponding month in 1904, and over 2 million bushels lighter than a similar movement for 1903. Shipments for the month were 3,990,095 bushels in 1905, 6,876,513 bushels in 1904, and 6,433,020 bushels in 1903. Grain receipts at this market for the first two months of the present year equaled 7,792,431 bushels, and were only about half the size of what they were for corresponding periods of either 1904 or 1903. To almost a like extent the same may be said with regard to shipments, which were 7,473,264 bushels in 1905, 12,273,341 bushels in 1904, and 13,254,338 bushels in 1903.

Kansas City grain arrivals for the month of February totaled 2,371,300 bushels, as against 6,029,100 bushels in 1904 and 4,551,100 bushels in 1903. The greatest reductions both from a relative and actual standpoint occurred in the receipts of wheat and corn, although there were also heavy losses in the oats, rye and barley movements. Shipments for the month reached a total of 2,071,200 bushels, which was not half the size of a similar movement in 1904, and over a million bushels less than that in 1903. For the first two months of the current year, total grain grain receipts at this market aggregated 5,615,100 bushels, and were less than one-half of what they were during a like period in 1904, and over 5 million bushels below a similar movement in 1903. Withdrawals for the same periods were 4,491,200 bushels in 1905, 10,184,400 bushels in 1904, and 7,951,200 bushels in 1903.

The inbound grain movements at Detroit during February reached a total of 1,125,741 bushels, this amount being somewhat in excess of a similar movement for 1904 and 1903. A much heavier inbound corn movement is responsible for the net increase indicated, as losses occurred in the receipts of all other grains. Total shipments for the month amounted to 178,324 bushels, in contrast with 75,014 bushels in 1904 and 368,493 bushels in 1903. For two months the grain receipts at this market, which were 1,818,967 bushels, showed a decided decline if compared with the movement of similar periods in 1904 or 1903, the gain made in February's receipts, not being of sufficient size to offset the losses which occurred in January. Total shipments for the two-month period were 403,602 bushels in 1905, 429,661 bushels in 1904, and 472,765 bushels in 1903.

During February rates on corn from interior primary markets to the Atlantic and Gulf coasts were reduced to an unusual extent, owing to an extremely active competition between the east-bound and south-bound railroads. The most noticeable reductions were those made from Missouri River to the Atlantic coast, such rates being generally determined by a combination of the local with the East St. Louis or Chicago rate, the lower combination prevailing; but on February 1 a through rate of 15½ cents, from this river to New York on export corn was put into effect, and on February 6 this rate was reduced to 14½ cents, and again on February 7 to 13 cents, at which figure it remained for the balance of the month, the usual differentials applying to Philadelphia, Baltimore, Norfolk and Newport News. The railroads running to the Gulf also reduced their rate on export corn from Kansas City from 12½ cents on February 1, to 10 cents on February 3, and from Omaha, from 13½ cents to 11 cents, these latter rates being the ones under which south-bound export grain was handled during the rest of the month.

The east-bound trunk-line grain movement from Chicago and Chicago points to the North Atlantic seaboard reached a total of 10,202,000 bushels for the first two months of the current year, and was over 800,000 bushels in excess of a similar movement in 1904, although somewhat smaller than that for 1903. The movement for the month of February which amounted to 7,012,000 bushels, was smaller than that for January, by nearly 3,500,000 bushels. Provision shipments eastward over the trunk lines during the first two months of the present year totaled 206,811 tons, being somewhat smaller than a similar movement in 1904, but varying but little from that which occurred in the first two months of 1903.

On the Atlantic seaboard Boston and New York showed large increases in the receipts of grain for the first two months of the current year as compared with the arrivals for similar months in 1904, while at Philadelphia and Baltimore losses were sustained. At New Orleans this year's receipts of grain are remarkably large if compared with those of the first two months of 1904, a heavy increase of corn arrivals being accountable for this improved condition. Of the present year's total, grain exports to February 28, 1905, 736 bushels moved by way of the Atlantic ports, 13,494,131 bushels by way of the Gulf ports, 1,621,848 bushels by way of the Pacific ports, and 1,507,234 bushels by way of the northern border, lake, and other principal ports.

During the present season, to February 28, the cotton brought insight has amounted to 9,604,246 bales in contrast with 8,729,246 bales for a corresponding six months in 1903-4, and 8,529,360 bales in 1902-3. Northern spinners have taken during the present season 1,519,039 bales, and southern spinners 1,320,853 bales, making a total of 2,839,892 bales, as compared with 2,991,488 bales for a similar period in 1903-4—and 2,830,651 bales in 1902-3. Of the foreign distribution, Great Britain has received 2,670,565 bales, France 530,224 bales, and Europe and other countries 2,450,838 bales, totaling 5,711,627 bales, during the first six months of 1904-5, as against 4,919,478 bales during a like period of the preceding season, and 5,137,973 bales during 1902-3.

STREET CAR CO.
IS TO SPEND $5000ON IMPROVEMENTS TO THE LO-CAL LINE.

A "Y" AT CORNER OF MAIN

And Milwaukee Streets Will Be Installed—Six-Inch Rails for Portion of Trackage.

Five thousand dollars is to be expended in improvements by the Janesville Street Railway Co. during the present season. Walter Bladen of Philadelphia is in the city today conferring with Supt. Edward J. Murphy regarding certain proposed improvements and extensions and changes in addition to those already decided upon may eventually be included in the program that has been mapped out.

To Put in a "Y"

"The new 'Y' which is to be put in at the Myers house corner at a cost of $1,200 will, with an additional car, enable us to furnish a twenty-minute service," said Supt. Murphy this morning. "Each car will cover the entire track system with the exception of the Forest park division on every trip. Starting from the barns the route will be along South Main to Milwaukee along West Milwaukee to the depots and cemetery, back over the same route and up East Milwaukee and Milton avenue, back over this section and south on South Main street. This will make it possible to remove the switches on East and West Milwaukee streets and it will no longer be necessary for the cars to travel in groups of three from the depot."

To Put in New Rails

Large six-inch, sixty-pound, rails are to be installed on those sections of the company's trackage where street paving is to be done this spring—on East Milwaukee street from the Myers hotel to Division street; on South Main from Milwaukee to the city park; and from the Grand hotel to a point just beyond the Academy street curve.

BURGLARS DROPPED
IN ON EVANSVILLEBroke into the Economy and Grange
Stores Last Night, and Carried Away Merchandise.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Evansville, Wis., March 28.—Burglars visited Evansville last evening and this time their coming was unannounced. They broke into the Economy store through the rear windows but were apparently frightened away before anybody had been secured. The Grange store did not fare so well. Entrance having been effected by two of the back windows, the night prowlers succeeded in carrying away two revolvers, two overcoats, some hats, two razors, a pair of hand saws, and five suits of boys' clothing. Early this forenoon the boys' clothing was found under a porch at the home of Mrs. H. A. Lankemak. It was identified by the proprietors of the Grange store as property that had been stolen from their premises. No other clue to the burglars has been found.

Knosch, brought to determine who is the rightful tenant of a certain farm in the town of Milton and to recover damages from the present holder providing he is unlawfully in possession of the property. J. J. Cunningham is appearing for the plaintiff and Edward Ryan for the defendant.

MISSIONARIES OF
"FLYING ROLLERS"Who Visited Janesville last Summer,
Are Presumably Participating in Festival at Benton Harbor.

Last August two long-haired missionaries of the House of David, located in Benton Harbor, Mich., appeared in Janesville and made exhortations on the street corners to the population to repent. They appear not to have found this city or Madison which they later visited very fertile fields for their missionary endeavors, as their sojourn was brief in both places.

Just now there is great rejoicing over at Benton Harbor on the part of this sect, more popularly known as the "Flying Rollers." Benjamin, the self-chosen leader of Israel, and Mary have completed their tour from Sydney Australia, and were hailed at the railroad station in the Michigan town on Saturday last, as the coming conquerors amid the wild cheers of 200 followers, the blowing of bugles and a brass band reception, just as the sun arose.

Benjamin and Mary established their colony with fifty followers in Benton Harbor two years ago. A suitable site was purchased on the outskirts of the city, bordering on a farming district and a large frame building was erected which is now known as the House of David. The "Flying Rollers," under the leadership of Benjamin, profess a religious belief that the world will come to an end in 1916, and only they will be saved by a command of the Lord.

CHAUTAUQUA FOR
THIS CITY NOWPLAN TO ESTABLISH A SUMMER
CAMPING GROUND HERE.

TEN DAYS OF LECTURES GIVEN

Park Could Be Used for Picnic and Recreation Grounds the Rest of the Year.

"The Janesville Chautauqua." This is the sign that will greet the residents of this city and be heard of throughout the country during the coming summer if the plans of H. M. Holbrook are carried to a successful issue. Not only is Janesville to have a ten days' chautauqua, but it is to have a park where Sunday school picnics can be held, where parties of boys and girls can go to camp out for a week or ten days, where there is boating, rowing, sailing, fishing, and all sorts of healthful exercise. Chautauqua park is to be the recreation ground for Janesville.

Novel Plan

The plan is a novel one. It meets a long-felt want for Janesville. Mr. Holbrook came to Janesville yesterday to meet with business men to discuss the feasibility of establishing a chautauqua in Janesville. He was recommended to Janesville by Father Vaughn, the noted Catholic divine. His idea was simply to hold a chautauqua for ten days during the summer, securing a guarantee that twelve hundred season tickets at $1.50 each be sold. This sum, eighteen hundred dollars, is to be put into the program of speakers for the course. Mr. Holbrook's profits and the profits of the association making the guarantee to be from the paid admissions during the seasons.

Plans Changed

When he came to talk the matter over after arriving, prominent business men saw the opportunity to establish a park where picnics could be held and so the two plans were merged into one. Superintendent Murphy of the Janesville Street Railway company was consulted and a site looked for. An ideal spot was found on the river side at the end of the street car lines, large grounds, a good river bank, easy access to the city by both river and car line, plenty of trees, and but little improvement needed in the shape of a few benches and rustic tables to make it a delightful place for a picnic or a camp.

Concessions

Mr. Murphy in behalf of the street car lines promised to give half of the gross receipts of the car-line to the association taking charge of the park during the chautauqua and to make rebates for all societies holding picnic there. Aside from this, the planned chautauqua would need dining halls, refreshment counters, and other little things, all of which would furnish funds for the concession fund and making a good bit to swell the receipts of the whole summer. It is an ideal plan and one which the business men of the city seem alive to and will probably be a success. A meeting is to be called in a few days of those interested, when fixed plans will be formulated and matters definitely settled.

The Chautauqua

Mr. Holbrook is a well-known promoter of chautauquas. His plan to expend eighteen hundred dollars for speakers would insure a good course. The lectures would be held in a large tent capable of holding several thousand persons. Campers could come and stay the entire ten days, living in tents on the grounds, cooking their own meals or eating at the dining tent. Everything would be rural and camp life of the most delightful sort. The courses planned would be interesting. There would not be an idle moment during the day. Lectures, entertainments and music would fill the interim between breakfast, dinner, and supper. Then there would be the river for recreation and pleasure. Easy access to and from the city by the street-cars, far enough away to avoid the city noise, to get the pure air and enjoyment of camp life, would add to the recreation.

ages Boat Houses.

Rock river has risen 24 inches since yesterday morning and continues to gain in volume hourly. This afternoon it is about three feet below the highest mark reached last spring. The break-up of the ice at Lake Koshkonong has commenced. There was a big shove on the east shore yesterday and the boat-houses on the Halls place, owned by James A. Fathers, Wallace Cochrane, Arthur Jenkins, and Charles Schwartz of this city, were damaged. The extent of the loss along the shore has not been learned.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 28.—Dr. A. A. Ames, former mayor, has at last filed his suit against the city for $490 back salary, alleged to be due him, and it will be tried at the April term of the district court. The doctor's attorneys claim that they have a clear case and that the city has no defense whatever against the claim.

TEN DAYS GIVEN
TO CLEAN UP INHealth Officer Merritt Orders That Rubbish Piles Be Carried Away and Alleys Cleaned.

Dr. Walter D. Merritt, city health officer, has given property owners of Janesville ten days in which to carry away the rubbish and scrap-heaps accumulated through the winter months and to clean up the alleys where refuse is dumped. The coming of warm weather has taken all the frost from the garbage piles and the first rain now will filter down through the refuse and probably run into a nearby river or fill the air with disease germs, threatening sickness to the people residing in the vicinity. If property holders fail to comply with this order the city will perform the work at the expense of the property on which the refuse is located. There is no reason why there should be any delay; the frost is out of the ground and heaps and there are two places where the refuse can be dumped—on the land near the gas-house, commonly called Goose island, and on the city dumping grounds across Beloit avenue from Buob's brewery at the foot of South Main street.

IS WELL RECEIVEDPlay Presented Last Night Pleased Large Audience—"A Break for Liberty" Tonight.

"Slaves of the Orient," the opening bill at the Myers theatre last evening, met with a cordial reception on the part of a large audience. Miss Marian March played the stirring role of "Zuleika," queen of the harem, in a convincing manner and proved herself a versatile and talented artist. The support was competent, the work of little Miss Vivian Naltzger being especially praiseworthy. Al Evans and Effie Naltzger in their comedy delineations kept the spectators in good humor and Edward Naltzger as the khedive and J. T. Forrester as "Coscello" were excellent in their respective parts. The scenic and light effects and the dancing and singing specialties were exceptionally good. Tonight the company will present the thrilling melodrama "A Break for Liberty," in which the great Danish master "Prince Michael" plays an important part in the pursuit of a convict, Miss Marian March, the leading lady, was a student in Janesville ten years ago.

FOUR BALLOT BOXES
TO BE FURNISHEDTown, Village or City Clerks Must Make This Provision for the Spring Election

For the election this spring, which falls on next Tuesday, April 4, each town, village or city clerk must furnish four ballot boxes. One is for the reception of the votes for town or city officers, one for the judicial election, one for the votes for county superintendents of schools and another for the ballots cast by women. The ballots of the men and women will, however, go on the same poll-list.

WELL KNOWN RESIDENT OF FAIRFIELD PASSES AWAY AFTER A BRIEF ILLNESS

Mrs. Margaret McCarthy Dies March 24—Was Born in Ireland—A Pioneer of Walworth Co.

Fairfield, March 27.—Mrs. Margaret McCarthy, a well known pioneer resident of Walworth county, died March 24 after a short illness. Margaret McCannan was born in Anath, Monaghan county, Ireland, July 18, 1843. From which place she came with her mother and brother to Darlen, Wis., when nine years of age, and since then has resided in Walworth county, Wis. She was married to Michael McCarthy at Delavan, Wis., June 9, 1861. To them eight children were born, four of whom preceded her to the better life. She is survived by a brother, Peter McCannan of Milwaukee, a husband and four children: Mrs. Irwin Willard of Sugar Creek, Charles of Clinton, Hugh and James of this place. There are also to mourn her loss two children, Michael O'Shea and Mamie McCarthy, whom they have taken into their home and cared for as their own. Mrs. McCarthy was a member of the Star Camp of R. N. A. and of the Ladies Industrial Society and in both lodges she was always a willing and earnest worker. Her loss will be greatly mourned in the community where she was ever ready to assist those who were sick or in trouble, as well as those in her own home circle. After a short prayer at the house the remains were taken to St. Andrew's church in Delavan where mass was read by Father Buckley. The remains were laid to rest in the Delavan cemetery amid a profusion of beautiful flowers.

Former Resident Dies in California George Lamont, a former resident of this place and Clinton, died in California, where he had gone in search of health. His remains were brought back to his home in Hastings, Neb., March 14. He leaves a wife, one daughter and one sister.

Mrs. James Morton delightfully entertained the class in Bible study, Saturday afternoon. Among the interesting feature of the program was a review of the lessons given in story and poem, a question box, a sketch of the life of Fanny Crosby, and the singing of several of her hymns. Tempting refreshments were served and all united in declaring Mrs. Morton a charming hostess.

SOUTHERNER'S GOOD FORTUNE.

Sam Hoover Finds Something Better Than Gold Mines.

There is no happier man in this whole wide world today than Sam A. Hoover, of Greensboro, N. C., who is receiving the congratulations of his friends upon his fortunate find of something better than gold mines or oil wells. Mr. Hoover in a letter to a friend in Janesville writes: "Three months ago I was greatly distressed by nasal catarrh and entire deafness in the right ear. The labor of hawking and scraping to get my throat and nasal passages free from the foul secretions deposited there, might be about equal to that of a six mule team with a road-scraper to get the earth from the road-side to the center. I purchased an outfit of Hyomel and Hyomel balm, and as a result of its use my head, throat and nasal passages are all free from secretions of any sort, only as Nature designed, and my hearing in both ears is nearly as acute as in my youth." There is no disagreeable stomach dosing in using Hyomel; just breathe it and its pure fragrance will kill the catarrhal germs in the head, throat and lungs. Hyomel balm used in connection with Hyomel will cure the worst case of catarrhal deafness. The complete outfit costs but $1. and extra bottles are only 50 cents. Ask the Peoples' Drug Co. to show you the strong guarantee under which they sell Hyomel. It costs nothing unless it cures.

IT WILL KEEP

It is not always necessary to use a whole bottle of Scott's Emulsion. What is left will keep. We have seen a bottle of our Emulsion three years old that is still good. What other preparation of cod liver oil will keep sweet and permanent for half that length of time? Scott's Emulsion is always reliable because it's always absolutely pure.

Hull's where a lunch of chocolate and beef sandwiches was served. From there they went to Paris, at Geo. W. Coon's, Milton Junction, where Madame Platts assisted Mrs. Cora Coon in receiving. Grape juice was the beverage of which all partook after listening to a reading in French. Thence to Berlin, at C. E. Crandall's the globe trotters took their way. Frau Crandall was ready with a lunch of rye bread, bologna and coffee, and German songs and speeches were also given for their edification. They next proceeded to far away Japan at Prof. Alfred Whitford's, where they were received by Japanese ladies in native costume and all partook of the "cup which cheers, but not inebriates." The first stop on the return trip was made in San Francisco, at the home of G. R. Boss. Here flowers and fruits abounded and Frappe was served. The decorations consisted of the flags of each nation and other articles peculiar to each country which was visited. The New York station was reached at a late hour after which the tourists dispersed to their several homes well pleased with their "Trip Around the World." "H."

ONE WORD IN TIME

Is Better Than Two Afterwards. A Chance to Profit By a Janesville Man's Experience.

It is a strange thing how people will put away an opportunity until too late; it's only little things that go to make up our every day existence; the trouble is we don't pay sufficient attention to them. Backache is a little thing. Sometimes it comes after a hard day's work or a slight cold. It will pass off, you say; it's only the result of overtaking my back, but your kidneys. The exertion or straining has interfered with their delicate mechanism. You call it backache, but it really is kidney ache. If the kidneys are not relieved, chronic disorders set in and this is where the "little thing" should not be passed over. A Janesville man has learned to appreciate what delay means.

Mr. H. W. Rodgers, carpenter of 210 South Main street says "My wife had kidney complaint and rheumatism for five years suffering a great deal from pain across the loins. Doan's Kidney Pills, sold by the People's Drug Co., brought much longer for and gratifying results. First there was no visible change and she came to the conclusion that they were like all other remedies she had tried but finally the aching and the distress in the small of the back disappeared."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McIlburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for U. S.

"I got a bad cold and it continued to grow worse. I went to a doctor and he gave me some medicine, but that did me no good. I continued to get thin and weak and coughed most all the time. I went down in weight to 147 pounds. One day while I was sitting in my engine room after I had a bad coughing spell my fireman said to me, 'Let me give you a bottle of John's Medicine. It will help you to get well.' Of course I laughed at him and told him that I thought my days would soon be over. He did go at last and gave me a bottle of Father John's Medicine. I took it as directed, and began to get well right away. My cough stopped and before I had taken three bottles I commenced to be myself again, and now I am a well man. My weight is 220 1/2 lbs. I do advise all who are run down or have a cough or cold to take Father John's Medicine. It makes you well and builds you up." (Signed) W. F. AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PUBLIC

Endorsement of Salisbury for the State Superintendent of Schools.

To the Patrons and Friends of the Country Schools: Assuming, as we think we have a right to do, that you are vitally interested in the present condition and future prospects of the country schools, we make bold to address you on a subject of such great importance to the welfare of our commonwealth.

You are, of course, aware that a state superintendent is to be elected at the coming spring election for the term of four years. The next four years will prove an important era in our educational development, especially so of our country schools, if the right man is put at the head of the department of public instruction. There is need of a superintendent of force, ability, and vital interest in the problem of the rural schools, for these schools are the seminary in which the farm boys and girls of our state must get their educational start in life. Such a man as the occasion demands is now standing as a non-partisan candidate for this important office in the person of President Albert Salisbury of the Whitewater Normal school. He is a man of ability, energy, and wide experience. He was reared on the farm and has been a pupil and a teacher in the country schools. But, what is more to the purpose, he has shown himself, for years past, to be deeply interested in the subject of rural education, of the right and profitable kind of training for those who begin life in the country. He was one of the first in the state to advocate the teaching of the elements of agriculture in the country schools. He is in favor of county training schools for teachers and schools of agriculture. He is not an inert, negative man but positive and enterprising, and he is at the same time a practical man, safe and conservative in the selection of means. With you we are glad that the time has come when all party politics or partisan consideration is divorced from the question of state superintendent of schools. We are all free to choose the man we think will mean the most for the practical education of the youth of our state. In the name of the farmers' children and in the interest of country life in Wisconsin, we appeal to you to consult the interest of the country school by supporting Mr. Albert Salisbury for the office of state superintendent.
